

SARAH COLEGRAVE
FINE ART

Rottingdean Church by Philip Burne-Jones

Sir Philip Burne-Jones

£2,500

Description

SIR PHILIP BURNE-JONES, Bt (1861-1926)

Rottingdean Church

Indistinctly inscribed and dated I.I.: 1917; Inscribed with title on a label on the backboard Watercolour

16 by 17.5 cm., 6 by 7 in. (frame size 34.5 by 35 cm., 13 by 13 in.)

Philip Burne-Jones was born in the London, the son of the Pre-Raphaelite artist Sir Edward Coley Burne-Jones. He was educated at Marlborough College and Oxford. He exhibited at the Royal Academy, Grosvenor Gallery and the Paris Salon. His portrait of his father is in the collection of the National Portrait Gallery, London. The church of St Margaret of Antioch was near North End House, the Burne-Jones's holiday home in the Sussex Downs village of Rottingdean. His father, Sir Edward Burne-Jones, is buried in the churchyard.